V. And be it enacted, That whenever there shall be occasion to expose to public sale the property of any collector, or his securities, by virtue of any execution already issued, or to be issued for this purpose, the said agent shall cause at least thirty days public notice to be given of such sale, and shall attend the same, and if it shall appear that there is danger of losing any part of the debt due to the state, and not otherwise, shall purchase any property so exposed to sale for the use of the state, in payment, or part payment, as the case may be, of the arrearages due by the collectors whose property may be so purchased, and that no purchase authorised by this act shall be considered as made on the part of the state, unless a public declaration to that effect be made by the agent, or his deputy, immediately after such sale and purchase; and any property so purchased for the use of the state, the said agent may again expose to public auction on the most advantageous terms, for the use of the state, and if the same be sold on credit, which shall in no case exceed the term of two years, the said agent shall take bond, with good and sufficient security, to be approved of by the treasurer of the western shore, from the purchasers of such property, and all bonds by him so taken shall be depositedd, with an accurate list thereof subscribed by him, in the treasury of the western shore, and shall be a lien upon the real property of such purchasers, and their securities, from the respective dates, or so much thereof as is mentioned in the schedule thereto annexed.

VII. And be it enacted, That no payment in future by any officer or person indebted to the state shall be valid and effectual, unless made to the treasurer of the western or eastern shore, or to the agent, or unless made to the clerks and sheriffs of the several counties, in the cases where the said clerks and sheriffs are by law authorised to receive the same.

VIII. And be it enacted, That the agent shall have full power and authority, by and with the advice of the governor and council, in all cases of uninstalled debts, to take back any property heretofore purchased by any person, and not yet paid for, in cases where the person so having purchased, and his securities, are not capable of paying for the same, and to compromise the same upon terms and principles of equity and justice, by and with the advice and consent aforesaid; and the agent is hereby required to lay a particular statement of his proceedings under this section before the next session of assembly.

IX. And be it enacted, That the agent, with the approbation and consent of the governor and council, be and he is hereby authorised and empowered to compromise any suit depending in chancery with any state debtor, upon any terms in their judgment calculated to promote the interest of the state, and to obtain the speedy receipt of the sums due.

X. And be it enacted, That if, under the terms of any compromise made as aforesaid, the property heretofore purchased should be taken back and revested in the state, the same may be sold by the agent, and he is hereby authorised and empowered to sell the same at public sale, giving thirty days notice, on a credit of two years, payable one half of the principal, and the whole interest, annually, on the first day of December in each year, and the bonds, when taken, shall be returned to the treasury of the western shore, and reported to the general assembly at their session next ensuing the taking of such bonds.

XI. And be it enacted, That all cases in chancery, where no compromise under this act is effected, shall be placed under the direction of the agent, who is hereby authorised and required to call on the attorney-general to prosecute or defend the same to immediate final decision; and the governor and council are hereby authorised and empowered, at the request of the agent, in cases of difficulty, to aid the attorney-general, by employing any person to attend to surveys where necessary, or otherwise to assist in the prosecution or defence of said suits, which person or persons are to be paid out of the contingent fund of five hundred pounds; and the names of the persons so employed, together with the sum allowed for their services, to be laid before the general assembly at their next session.

XII. And be it enacted, That if any bond debtor to the state for confiscated property purchased, or otherwise, shall neglect to make payment agreeably to the condition of his bond, and sundry resolves of the general assembly, the said agent shall cause process to issue for the whole principal and interest then due, or shall proceed on any execution already issued, and served and suspended, as occasion may require, or, under the directions and with the approbation of the governor and council, he is hereby authorised to delay any execution as long as they may think expedient and necessary.

XIII. And be it enacted, That the said agent be authorised to superintend the collection of all balances due on bond taken for taxes due before the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three; and the said agent shall also superintend the collection of all balances due on bonds installed, or otherwise, for the emissions of paper money of one thousand seven hundred and sixty nine, and one thousand seven hundred and seventy-three.

XV. And be it enacted, That the said agent shall have power to fix such days of sale of property taken by fieri facias, at the suit of the state, as he may think proper, always taking care to give at least twenty days public notice thereof; and the said agent shall also have power to suspend the sales, from time to time, as he may think most to the advantage of the state.

XVI. And be it enacted, That the said agent shall pay into the treasury, in specie, the amount of all specie by him received in the discharge of the duties of this act.

XVII. And be it enacted, That in all cases where bonds shall be taken in virtue of this act, the bonds shall be a lien on the real property of the obligors from the date thereof, or on so much of the said real property as the governor and council shall think sufficient, to be particularly mentioned in a schedule to be annexed to the said bond, in which case it shall be a lien on the property contained in such schedule, and no more, such bond and schedule to be lodged with the treasurer of the western shore.

XVIII. And be it enacted, That all bonds taken in virtue of this act shall express the county in which the obligors respectively reside, and the treasurer of the western shore shall, within one month after he receives them respectively, cause them, with the schedule annexed to them, to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the general court of the western shore, at the expence of the obligors; and a copy of the said record, certified under the hand and official seal of the said clerk, shall be as good evidence in any court of law or equity in this state as the original bond would be if it was produced; and if any of the obligors in any such bonds reside on the eastern shore, the said treasurer shall, within six months from the time he receives the same respectively, transmit to the clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, in the same manner as papers on public service are transmitted, a copy of such bonds and schedules, certified as aforesaid by the clerk of the general court of the western shore, to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, at the expence of the obligors, and in such case a copy of the said record, certified as aforesaid by the clerk of the general court of the eastern shore, shall be good evidence as aforesaid.

XIX. And be it enacted, That the said agent shall render to the treasurer of the western shore distinct quarterly accounts of his receipts of all money, certificates and bonds, in virtue of this act, and shall immediately thereupon pay and deliver the same to the said treasurer, who shall, in his annual report to the general assembly, state fully and particularly the money, certificates and bonds, by him received from the said agent, and the times when the same were received and accounted for.

XXI. And be it enacted, That the said agent shall, within twenty days after the commencement of the next session of the general assembly, render to each branch of the legislature a fair and distinct account of the debts or sums of money due to the state, ranging the names of the debtors in alphabetical order, and give full and complete information of the manner in which, and the time when, each debt arose, and also the different steps and proceedings which have been taken by himself, or others, for the recovery thereof.

XXII. And be it enacted, That the said agent shall be allowed for his services the following commissions, to wit: for all payments actually made to either of the treasurers in virtue of this act, three per cent. and for all bonds taken by the said agent in virtue of this act, three per cent.

XXV. And be it enacted, That if the said agent shall not accept his appointment, or if after his acceptance he shall not give bond, and take the oath aforesaid, before the first day of February next, or shall die, the governor and council are hereby authorised and requested to appoint a fit and proper person in his place, who shall have and execute all the authorities and powers vested in the said William Marbury by this act, such person first giving security, and taking the oath aforesaid.

WILLIAM MARBURY, Agent.

BREST FLEET.

BERLIN, November 7.

THE Telegraph yesterday transmitted an account from Brest, informing the minister of marine that Bridport is before that city with sixty ships of the line, and that a neutral which left the port, informed the English that the combined squadrons were ready to sail. Even to oblige the British government to keep such a considerable force in activity, would be a great object;—But Buonaparte has held several long conferences with Bruix, and it is known to be possible to make an expedition, even in spite of the enemy's fleet.

ERLANG, November 2.

Nothing official has yet appeared concerning the negotiations for an armistice, which have been carried on since the 22d of October, between field marshal Suwarrow and the Austrian commanders, and the French gen. Massena. However, several private letters from Suabia, of the 26th and 27th ult. state this to be certain, and the alterations which have been made on both sides with respect to winter quarters, may be considered as a positive proof of an armistice being nearly agreed upon. These private letters state the principal contents of that convention to be:

1. The convention is concluded for an unlimited time. 2. A line of demarcation is agreed upon between the two armies, on the frontiers of Switzerland and Germany. 3. In consequence of this line of demarcation, the Russians, under Suwarrow withdraw to the Danube, and the Austrians to certain points not yet known. 4. The French evacuate the whole of the Swiss territory. 5. Switzerland is to be considered by both powers as a neutral state, &c.

The above-mentioned letters also give the pleasing intelligence that the most active preparations have been made in different quarters for opening a new congress for peace.

NEW-YORK, January 20.

HIGHLY INTERESTING.

On Saturday last we were favoured by a friend with a short extract of a letter from a house in St. Thomas; and we hastened to give it to our subscribers in an extra sheet;—We have now received a full extract from this letter, which we offer to the public without any other comment, than that we are satisfied from the respectability of the source of the information, and from the date of the departure of the vessel from France, which brings us 20 days later than any communication direct from France, hitherto received, that there must be some grounds for the report.

St Thomas, 26th Dec. 1799.

"Great news close this year. God grant that it be true.—Buonaparte, coalesced with Sieyes and Roger Ducos, has overturned the republican government, by suspending till next March, the two houses, the constitution and the directory. This triumvirate assumed the denomination of national consuls; they selected 25 members of each house, to compose a consular national assembly. A single moment was sufficient to destroy the Old Colossus, and to establish and consolidate their newly assumed authority.

"It is said that they have promised peace within three months! this is a very flattering allurement to the people; and so much credited in France, that Messrs. Segeran and Gantier, have sent orders to Guadaloupe, to keep their vessels at that island, until peace takes place.—This blow has almost cost Buonaparte his life, for while he was delivering his speech to the legislative body on dissolving it, two pistols were fired at him, but missed him, a dagger was also thrust at him, and which would have stabbed him, had not a grenadier parried off, and received the blow in his arm."

The new agents for Guadaloupe, were in France when the above happened, and departed in haste for fear of being re-called, and have since arrived there with a large frigate and a sloop of war; three vessels have also arrived there from France, one of which brings news to the 17th November—they all agree in these particulars.—It is generally believed in France, that a monarchial constitution will be the consequence of these events, and that the new rulers have it in contemplation, to put it in force in a short time.—But who will be the king? What is their design on that subject?—If it is not Lewis the XVIII, we cannot flatter ourselves to have reached the end of our misfortunes, or of the disturbances in France. Let us patiently await, whatever the Sovereign of Kings has determined in his eternal wisdom, and endeavour to hasten the moment of his mercy, by the most fervent prayers.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.

On the 16th instant the following accident happened at Peekskill, in this state: A woman sitting near the fire side, having her youngest infant in her lap, a second playing near her, it accidently fell into a large kettle of boiling water. The mother in haste to preserve her child, threw the youngest on the bed, and on lifting the other out of the kettle found it lifeless.—She then sent the eldest, a boy about nine years of age, to call the father, who was at work in the barn; the boy on his way thence ran among a number of horses, who kicked out his brains. The mother in the mean-time went to the bed side to take up the infant, and to her inexpressible grief found it deprived of life, having in the hurry thrown its neck across the head board of the bedstead.

We have not been able to learn the name of this unfortunate family, but the truth of the above is unquestionable.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.

An elderly man, working on board the ship Dispatch, in this port, yesterday as a rigger, unfortunately fell from the yard, and immediately expired.

Office of the Daily Advertiser,

By the ship Phœnix, captain Bray, arrived this morning from Cork, we have English papers to November 22, fourteen days later than any yet received.

LONDON, November 15.

BUONAPARTE.

Late last night we received the Paris papers to the 9th instant, but their contents are of no importance, when compared with the two telegraphic dispatches which arrived by express after the papers. According to these dispatches, an extraordinary and most unexpected revolution has taken place at Paris, evidently brought about by Buonaparte. The following is the

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCH

Of the 12th of November.

"The councils have been transferred to St. Cloud. Barras has given in his resignation. Buonaparte commands in Paris.—Moreau commands the guard of the Directory. Paris is tranquil. Every one is pleased."

SECOND TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCH,

Received at Gravelines on the 13th instant, at 9 at night.

"1. Buonaparte is general of Paris.—Moreau commands the guard of the directory. The council of five hundred is at St. Cloud. Barras has given his resignation, and all is tranquil in Paris.—Orders were also given to circulate the news."

November 16.

The following additional intelligence we received this morning from Deal. We give the letter verbatim.

DEAL, November 15.

"There have arrived some French officers. They are said to have brought some propositions to government. They state, that a counter-revolution has taken place, and that the directory have fled from Paris. Buonaparte has declared for royalty, and has taken the command of the royalists."

Remarks of the London editor.

Upon these dispatches, which offer no details—which do not state when the revolution took place, we [courier] can only submit a few, and perhaps not very satisfactory observations. It is certain that the Paris papers do not prepare us for any such event; on the contrary, they state that the utmost harmony prevailed between the directory and Buonaparte. But so many events equally extraordinary with the present have taken place since the revolution, that we have no right to assert that these telegraphic dispatches are false, because the intelligence they contain is so totally unexpected.

Before Buonaparte sailed for Egypt, it is known that he was the intimate friend of Barras, who appears to have been the victim of this revolution. Lucien Buonaparte was also connected with him. There is this variation between the two dispatches; one states, that both the councils have been removed to St. Cloud, the other that it is only the councils of five hundred. If the councils have removed from Paris, it is because they disapprove of the revolution. Buonaparte's brother is president of the council of five hundred. Has Buonaparte in conjunction with Sieyes produced a total change in the constitution to which the councils did not chuse to accede, and has the conqueror of Italy established a dictature? We confess that little weight is to be placed upon any observations made upon such materials—yet we do not believe that these telegraphic dispatches are unfounded. A very important change has in all probability taken place in Paris.—We shall not speculate upon the consequences of such a revolution, until we are certain that it has really taken place.

We proceed to the contents of the Paris papers. The telegraphic dispatch from Dunkirk is confirmed. Klenau has been driven from the Riviere, with the loss of the rear guard, who were forced to lay down their arms. Coni has also been relieved, and Ceva is besieged. Tortona is also threatened by the French, whose centre has advanced and taken Suza and Tivol. General Dubesme is within two leagues of Turin. The left wing of the army of Italy has also advanced. A column has passed Little St. Bernard, repulsed Haddick, and again made itself master of Aosta, which opens a communication between the French armies in Italy.

Massena has entirely cleared the left bank of the Rhine on the Grison side. Neither the archduke or Suwarrow have made any attempt to resume the offensive; meanwhile the army of the Rhine, advancing with hasty strides, have carried all the posts on the Necker, and taken Stutguard, with a great quantity of artillery and magazines.

The surrender of Rome and Civita Vecchia to the English, is said to have caused much displeasure to the Austrians. The emperor, as king of the Romans, pretends that he alone ought to be put in possession of them.

The Chouans continued to harrass the western department; but their force appears to be too small to afford any serious uneasiness to the republic.

Annapolis, January 30.

On Sunday morning last, about 12 o'clock, that large and commodious building, the poor house of Anne-Arundel county, near this city, caught fire, and the whole of the wood-work belonging thereto consumed. Before the citizens could assemble, the roof was in an entire blaze; and they were constrained to be inactive spectators of the destruction of this receptacle of the Children of Misfortune. We are happy to add, that its inhabitants were all saved. They are at present accommodated in part of the new gaol.

On Tuesday last, the barn and stables belonging to Mr. Jesse Ray, on the north side of Severn, were entirely consumed by fire.

And yesterday, about 10 o'clock, a fire broke out in the work shop and bark-house occupied by Mr. Norman, but by the activity of the citizens was extinguished without doing material damage.

And, whereas I entirely accord with the honourable legiflature in the meaſure propoſed, and am anxious to co-operate with them in paying this tribute of grateful reſpect to the merits and long tried patriotiſm of our deceaſed fellow-citizen, I have therefore thought proper to recommend and adviſe, and do hereby recommend and adviſe accordingly, that the twenty-ſecond day of February next be obſerved throughout this ſtate as a day of mourning, humiliation and prayer—that the citizens on that day go into mourning, and abſtaining, as far as may be, from their ſecular occupation, devote the time to the ſacred duties of religion—that they call to mind the virtues, public ſervices, and unſhaken patriotiſm of the deceaſed, and admiring endeavour to emulate them—that they implore the Moſt High God to ſupply his loſs, by inſpiring them with a love of true liberty and pure religion, and by diſpenſing the bleſſings of peace and knowledge throughout the land—and that he would grant to the people of this and the United States, that the wiſdom and virtues of a Waſhington may never ceaſe to influence and direct our public councils.

Given in the council chamber, at the city of Annapolis, under the ſeal of the State of Maryland, this eighteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety-nine.
